Office Next Moscow 2014 - the leading International Forum for Office Design, Technology and Real Estate in Russia

Nuremberg / Moscow, November 11, 2013

Offices are often set up in such a way that employees do not feel comfortable in it. Companies prefer to demonstrate their corporate identity by means of uniform furniture, instead of individual style. Numerous studies proved the importance of a relaxed office atmosphere for staff high performance. Office Next Moscow will show that there are also other alternatives; the event takes place on 27 - 29 May, 2014 in Moscow. "The latest technologies and trends around real estate, office and interior design are discussed and presented by professionals and top exhibitors at Office Next Moscow. It is the meeting spot for international exhibitors operating on the Russian market and top decision-makers of the industry", says Bernd D. Fichtner, CEO of the international trade fair organizer OWP Ost - West-Partner GmbH.

Office Next Moscow concept - Trends, Talks and Awards

Office Next Moscow consists of three parts: Trends, the exhibition for high-class office furniture, office equipment, real estate and technologies; Talks, the conference with top international speakers and presentations and Awards, the contest of the best Russian and international office projects. The concept allows visitors to get a balanced blend of knowledge, information and experience.

Exhibitors - the right mixture makes the difference

Office design is a complex topic, each year the professional visitors expect to learn about the latest trends and get valuable information at the show. The companies from such spheres as office furniture, office acoustics, floor coverings, lighting and media technologies, facility management, real estate, office organization and planning, as well as companies offering IT solutions, services and consulting present themselves at Office Next Moscow.

New location Gostiny Dvor - more space for more ideas

In the coming year Office Next Moscow moves into one of the most architecturally fascinating venues of Moscow - Gostiny Dvor. The medieval building was completely restored and modernized in 1995. High ceilings, glass roof and central location near the Kremlin make the venue extremely attractive - especially for creative office community.
